

METROPOLIS

ARCHITECTURE AND
DESIGN AT ALL SCALES
January 2016

celebrating 35 years

Game Changers

Our 6th Annual
Look at People
Making a Difference

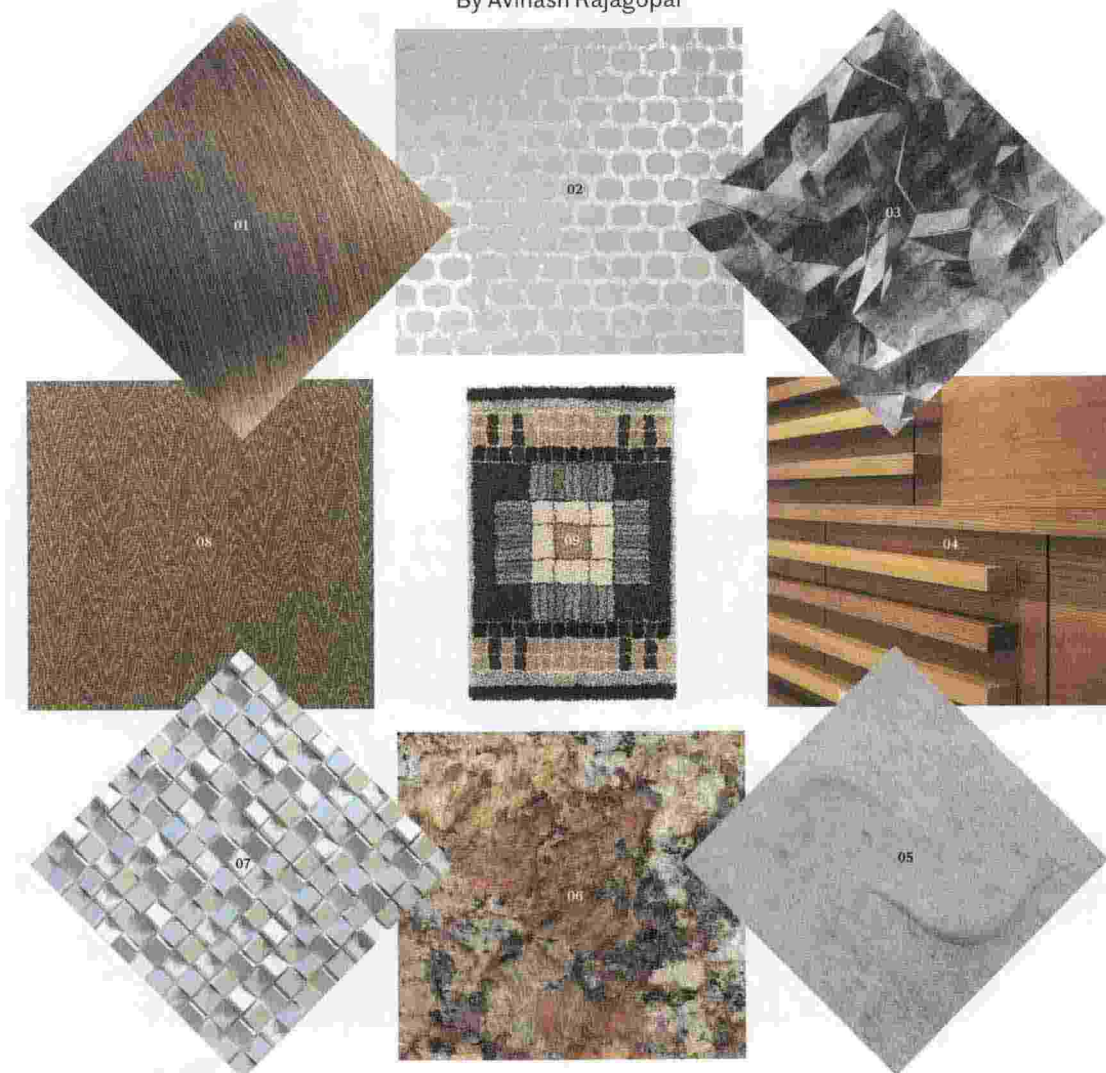

KieranTimberlake
DDC
Lacaton & Vassal
Ponyride
Sarah Herda

TREND Earthy Artifice

The idea of man-made materials mimicking natural ones is as old as interior design, but the results tend to lack dimension. These interior surface materials bridge that gap, approximating the depth and dramatic texture found outdoors.

By Avinash Rajagopal

01 SILVER RAIL VENEER with metal lines from Alpi, alpiwood.it 02 STARLIT LATTICE TILES in seashell and glass beads from Maya Romanoff, mayaromanoff.com 03 DIMENSION WALLS WALLCOVERING from MDC, mdcwall.com 04 FORTINA ARCHITECTURAL SYSTEM from B+N Industries replicates wood with aluminum and a non-PVC surface, brind.com 05 TWIST FELTFORMS CEILING TILES from Mio, mioculture.com 06 PANORAMA ANTICO GRIGIO LAMINATE from Arborite, arborite.com 07 CHIP INTERLOCKING ROCK PANELS from Modular Arts, modulararts.com 08 CARANDA WALLCOVERING from Wolf-Gordon, wolf-gordon.com 09 BALDERS HAGE RUG from Kasthall, kasthall.com

COURTESY THE DESIGNERS AND MANUFACTURERS